The Nigerian Community Northern Ireland (NICONI) is a not-for-profit organisation established to bring Nigerians together and provide a platform for unity, support, cultural preservation and community development.

Founded in 2017 by concerned Nigerians living in Northern Ireland, NICONI was created out of the desire to build a strong, united and supportive community where individuals and families can connect, share experiences, support one another and contribute positively to the wider Northern Irish society.

Over the years, NICONI has grown from a small gathering of Nigerians into an established community organisation committed to promoting social awareness, education, diversity and inclusion.

What Is NICONI All About?

> NICONI is more than just an association. It is a family, a support network and a platform to celebrate our identity.

Living away from one's country of origin can bring challenges, including cultural adjustment, isolation, employment difficulties, educational concerns and unfamiliarity with local systems. NICONI connects people with others who share similar experiences and understand them.

Members are encouraged to join community meetings, family gatherings, cultural celebrations, educational programmes, workshops and other social activities, while working with the wider community to promote peaceful coexistence, mutual respect and integration.

A stronger Nigerian community contributes to a stronger and more inclusive Northern Ireland.
